Buoyant Opening, but a Raid by the Bears

Sends Prices Down-There Was a Bally

New, Your, Aug. 20.-Speculation at th stock exchange was characterized by buoyancy and activity during the early dealings. Union Pacific was the feature, and advanced on a large business from 87% to 51%. The fise was based on report from Boston that the company and the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy had arrived at a botter understanding than had existed between the corporations for some years past. Rates have been restored throughout the entire line of the road, and all differences with the Denver and Rio Grande and Denver, Rio Grande and Western companie had been adjusted. The improvement in the other active stocks ranged from ½ to 2% percent.

enable them to declare dividends and accumulate surplus.

The bears claim the Eric advance has collapsed, and that there was good selling of it yesterday with the cliques.

A private disputch from Philiadelphia reports a considerable failure in fruit trade, and others are anticipated.

It is runored from Saratoga that Vanderbilt's interest in Eric is 150,000 shares of stock. Philadelphia report says there is talk there of a corner in Northern Pacific preferred, which is to be twisted on the closing of the books as was the case last year.

One day last week a couple of small kittens were missing from his house, and he started out to look for them, as they were great pets with his family. As he was going pets with his family. As he was going through his back yard he saw the mother of the kittens stealing along through the grass. Bellasstopped, and, looking ahead of the cat, saw a large pilot snake lying in the grass, about six feet distant. There was no doubting the fact that the cat was stealing on the snake, and it was equally plain that the cake know it and was ready for the attack. At first Bellas thought he would the snake at once, but he changed his mind and watched to see what the result of the impending fight would be.

had been adjusted. The improvement in the other setive stocks ranged from 3¢ to 27¢ per cent.

In the afternoon Missourt Pacific was raided down to 27½ by the bears, and this weakened the entire market. At the same time it was reported from the west that the weather there was unfavorable for the growing corn, which led to some selling for the long account. Prices declined ½ to 3½ per cent, from the lightest point of the day. Near the close there was a raily of ½ to 5½ per cent, the latter in Union Facilic. The market closed steady. Railway bonds were strong and higher in the early dealings, but closed lower for some of the speculative issues on account of the reaction in the stock market.

The action of Secretary Folger in calling $10,000,000 $per cents, shows he has no fears regarding his gold balances.

It is understood that the cliques marketed some stocks during the earlier dealings yester-day, but bought at the closing. The Gould-Comor brokers were large buyers yesterday, especially of Western Union and the Southwesterry.

It is understood that the advances in the years. especially of Western Union and the Fouthwesterns.

It is inderstood that the advance in the very low priced stocks and the activity shown in the dealing in properties of this class is the direct work of the cliques.

The report that the stockholders of the Rochester and Pittsburg would vigorously oppose the attempt to foreclose the road in the Interest of the second mortgage bondholders was sagin current.

The big bears are out of the market, except those who have joined the buils, and are working for an advance.

The Vanderfellt brokers continue to report that they are doing very little, and it is reported that Vanderfellt and his following are astisfied with the present market, and favor awaiting reactions before purchasing.

Commission houses report a better outside demand. Foreign houses were buyers of low-priced stocks yesterday. There is a new pool in Pullman, who propose putting the stock to 115 this week. There are many points to buy Union Pacific for 50 this week.

The Gould people are bullish on Union Pacific and claim that the present earning rate will enable them to declare dividends and accumulate surplus.

again the pilot struck viciously at it, only to again miss and to receive the viciont right hander alongside the head. This was repeated four times, when the snake, weakened and thoroughly dispirited, turned and tried to drag itself away. Instantly the cat sprang upon the retreating reptile, and with two or three strokes of her sharp claws tore it to pieces. She carried the remains of the dead snake to a distant part of the yard, where she dug a hole and buried it.

Bellas went on to a rocky hill not far away, thinking the kittens might be there. He saw a crevice in the rocks which looked like a snug hiding place for them, and he thrust his hand into it. Instantly he felt a sharp, singing pain in his finger, and it quickly shot up his arm to the shoulder. A rattlesnake had sunk its fangs into his fore finger, and retained its hold with such tenacity that Bellas could scarcely shake it of Ho its fangs into his fore finger, and retained its hold with such tenacity that Beilas could scarcely shake it off. He killed the snake and hurried home. An old woman named Bailey sucked the wound, while Beilas drank plentifully of whisky. After sucking the bite theroughly Mrs. Bailey applied table salt to it. This and the whisky was kept up, and after twenty-four hours Beilas, who had passed into delirium, was restored to consciousness. At the end of three days he was pronounced out of danger.

The old cat has killed several snakes since the disappearance of her kittens. She never hunted snakes before. From that circumstance it is believed that her kittens were eaten by snakes, and that she knows it and is avenging their death by killing snakes.

Five Years Building a Toy House.

New York Times.

For the last five years Police Officer William Clark, of the steamboat squad, has occupied his leisure moments in the construction of a toy house, which is now on exhibition in his residence, No. 2,010 Lexington avenue. The model stands upon a platform of walnut and ash, inlaid in 3,500 pieces in various fanciful figures and desagns, which contains also a model of a carriage house, with fences, arbors, and garden chairs. The house itself is eighteen inches high, being two stories in extent, with a mansard roof. It is as perfect in detail inside as out. It is carpeted throughout, and each window is curtained, and the kitched is furnished with a boiler, range, closet, and sink. There is glass, in all the windows, and front door is paneted, and also bus a neat little bell. The carriage house stands at a proper distance in the rear of the house to the right, and there is a drive from the has occupied his leisure moments in the a proper distance in the rear of the house to the right, and there is a drive from the front gate. Officer Clark constructed the entire model with a jackknife, or rather with two jackknives, for he used up the first. He has done two similar pieces of work before, and he presented a model of the same kind to William M. Tweed some years ago. The officer is in his 71st year, and has been on the force since 1836, when the watchhouse was in the city hall. He is a grandson of Erra Clark, the ninth signer of the declaration of independence.

To the Editor New York Sun.
I have a toad. I would say nothing about him had I not seen several frog stories from Putnam and Westchester counties. They have fine frogs, but I think Putnam holds the chromo for toads.

I have on my farm, a mile from Carnel.

"Bid I" was the unfeeling reply.
"Suppose I try it over again." village, a toad that heats the Westchester frog. One day as I was picking potate bugs from my potate vines in my garden I saw an injured toad. I gave it care, and let it wander back into the garden. and let it wander back into the garden. Every day after that, when I was picking bugs from the vines, that toad would come out, take bugs singly in its mouth, and drop them into the pan. There he would work all day long. I always had a bit of paper and pencil handy, and marked down the number of bugs I gathered in a day. One day, while thus employed, I was called from my work. On going back to the garden I found the toad marking down the number of bugs he had captured in my absence. He keeps the potatoes free from bugs, and does other numerous chores about the house and barn. I would not take $50 for him.

If you have room please publish this. It is a Cleveland and Hendrickstoad, and I want to keep Putnam's toad record good.

what the result of the impending fight would be.

The cat crept to within a foot of the make, which was ready to strike at the proper time. The cat stopped, and raising her left fore paw cautiously held it out toward the pilot. Like a flash the latter struck at the paw, but the cat was quicker still, and bringing her right paw into play dealt the snake a blow on the side of the head that knocked it back a foot or more. The reptile, evidently greatly surprised and maddened by the cat's attack, returned to the fight. Again the cat presented her left fore paw, and again the pilot struck viciously at it, only to again miss and to receive the violent right hander alongside the head. This was repeated four times, when the snake, weakened and thoroughly disprited, turned and tried to drag itself away. The fatal rapidity with which slight Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of AYERS CHERKY PECTOR A. hand, as a household remedy, a b AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. P. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

e "Medical science has produced no other ano-dyne expecturant so good as ATEA'S CHERRY FECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the threat and lunge."

The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago, Ill., who says:—

"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as ATRES CHEMET PRETORAL, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious brenchial and nulmonary affections.

than anything else in relieving area the tions serious bronchial and pulmonary affections. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Is not a new claimant for popular confidence, but a medicine which is to-day saving the lives of the third generation who have come into being since it was first offered to the public.

There is not a household in which this invaluable remedy has once been the troduced where its use has ever been abandoned, and there is not a person who has ever given it a proper trial for any throat or lung disease susceptible of cure, who has not been made well by it.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, AYEL'S CHERRY PECTORAL nos, in numberless instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Larnygitis, and even acute Pnoumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a needleine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is notding so good as AYEP'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treatment of Cronn and Whooping Coungh. AYER'S CHEMRY PECTORAL for treatment of Croup and Whooping Cough.

These are all plain facts, which can be verified by anybody, and should be remembered by everybody.
